Type of Organization: Community Foundation

Application Deadlines:

Varies by affiliated fund

EIN: 47-0769903

Areas of Interest:

The Nebraska Community Foundation uses the tools of philanthropy, community development, and economic development to help Nebraska communities help themselves.

The Foundation offers affiliated fund status (allowing communities or organizations to achieve nonprofit charitable status without forming their own nonprofit corporations) and strategic development assistance in communities throughout Nebraska.

Through the affiliated funds, the Foundation assists many communities in rural Nebraska to provide or continue essential services, such as:

- healthcare;
- telecommunications;
- K-12 education;
- social services;
- environmental protection;
- libraries;
- community centers;
- parks and recreation; and,
- scholarships.

Application Procedures:

Information on the affiliated fund programs is available on the Foundation's website.

Geographic Focus:

The Washington, DC metropolitan area

Type of Organization: Foundation, Fund, or Trust

EIN: 52-2028612

Areas of Interest:

The Washington Area Women's Foundation supports nonprofit organizations working to increase resources and opportunities for women and girls in the Washington, DC, metropolitan area.

The Foundation offers grants through the Early Care and Education Funders Collaborative, which supports organizations or organizational partnerships that contribute to systems change in the early care and education space while utilizing a racial equity framework and demonstrating a holistic view of child development. Specifically, the Collaborative is committed to working on and investing in projects in the region that:

- improve early childhood systems infrastructure;
- work to ensure families have access to high quality early education programs; and,
- help early educators effectively meet the needs of all children.

Successful proposals will demonstrate how the organization's work or project will:

- contribute to quality improvements across multiple programs or multiple jurisdictions;
- increase program capacity to effectively support all children across multiple programs or multiple jurisdictions; and,
- work to reduce barriers for families to access quality programs across neighborhoods or the region.

Application Procedures:

Application guidelines and forms for current funding opportunities and requests for proposals are available on the Foundation's website when funding opportunities are open.
